

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

TALENT VS EFFORT

DURATION 1 DAY

COURSE VISION

One great fundamental of human culture is the concept of equality. The belief that some people are born with better circumstances than others is often an issue around the world, as most of us think that, as human beings, we should have equal rights to certain things, such as freedom, a good life and other sources of happiness. However, as equal as we might be in the eyes of the law, is it wrong to assume that all of us are the same? In this course we will explore whether talent really matters, or whether hard work is the key to success.

COURSE MISSION

In this intensive 1 day course, you will explore the concept of Talent VS Effort and discover how success really happens.

COURSE METHODOLOGY

Through this interactive workshop you will uncover what it is that keep some people going where others quit, create plans on how to best prepare your team for inevitable setbacks, identify and learn tricks to stay focused when the going gets tough and discover how to best learn from failure, enabling resilience and flexibility in the face of challenges.

WHO IS THE COURSE SUITABLE FOR?

This course is suitable for middle to high level managers and leaders and those responsible for the development of staff.
